SATURDAY, JUNE 27.

JUST ONE YEAR AGO, we haid before the public some thoughts on the subject of "A Loan," which upon re-reading, we think good enough to reprint, in part, inasmuch as what was evidently true and correct reasoning then, obtains additional force after the lapse of twelve mouths. "The theory of Government with a country situated like this, must be quite different from that which obtains elsewhere. In populous communities, where the industries that support the body politic are established on settled bases, the axiom justly prevails that that country is best governed which is governed the least. This theory, while it applies perfectly to such a country as Great Britain, and with but little less certainty to the United States, cannot, for very obvious reasons, be suited to Hawaii. In almost every particular in which the principle of passive non-interference with private enterprise in developing national resources is a rule with those governments, the converse ought to obtain here, otherwise the Government is a negative benefit, instead of a positive good. We claim, therefore, that it is the province of the Government in every possible way to actively forward the development of the agricultural enterprises of the country, by using its power and the means at its disposal for the introduccion of capital and population—the two great needs · of the country-and both of which we are persuaded are obtainable. A proper appreciation of the situation, with sound and far-seeing economy, should prompt our Government to take speedy measures for the negotiation of a loan abroad at this juncture. Not a petty borrowing of a few hundred thousands, but a respectable loan of several millions, with which we can pay off at once all our nine and twelve per cent. indebtedness, and go on with new and larger enterprises, unencumbered with a compounding load of interest.

"It may be suggested that such a project will be opposed by the moneyed men of the country, as interfering with their interests. We do not accede to this view, for that capitalist must be short-sighted indeed who does not perceive that a much longer continuance of our present system of high interest, means a most thorough killing of the goose that lays the golden egg.

"The Government having by an adequate loan brought hither the capital, should then proceed to lend the same to the agriculturists, in sufficient amounts to pay off all their present indebtedness, and to enable them to enlarge operations, where practicable, charging for such advances merely the interest which the Covernment itself is responsible for, and taking security on the estates. We would ot however go so far as bas been done in Mauritius. where the Government acts as the factor of the planter, taking his crop off his hands and selling it to the foreign buyer. But we contend that some such system of Government aid as here suggested must be extended to our agriculturists, if they are to succeed. If, however, the Government shall decline to step forward to their aid, and that speedily, nothing to support it, cannot long subsist. It will be but the performance of a farce without an audience. "But besides the grateful task of placing our present agricultural interests on a prosperous basis. which it would be the province of the Government to perform with the means thus at its disposal, there are public improvements to be made which would double our present producing capacity. Many thou-plains between Kabului and Makawao on Maui, Waimea on Kauai, and various other localities, that may suggest themselves to our readers. Every dollar laid out by Government in measures that will bring these lands into cultivation, will return fourfold into

" In short, by the timely and judicious negotiation n the right direction of an adequate loan, and a prudent disposition of the funds, the entire condition of affairs in these Islands may be speedily removed from stagnation and the verge of national bankruptcy, to unexampled activity and prosperity in all branches of business. " In this, as well as in all other undertakings of national importance, we require a spirit of enlightened enterprise and energy in the heads of Government. The plan now suggested to raise Hawaii nel from the slough of despond is nothing new among the nations and governments. It is common enough with the States of the American Union, and has recently been followed with marked success by the Colony of New Zealand."

In reading over the above paragraphs, penned by us a year since, it may well be imagined that we publish His Majesty's message recommending such a Loan, with no little satisfaction; and we likewise print the Bill, which is now before the

IGLANT PALACE, June 22, 1874. To the Legislative Assembly of the Hawaiian Isl-

NOBLES AND REPRESENTATIVES-It frequently happens that it is advisable and even necessary for the State to lend its credit for the purpose of promoting the enterprises of its citizens, when the general good depends largely upon those enterprises.

It is apparent to me and no doubt it is likewise so to you, Nobles and Representatives, that for some years past, there has been no extension of business at all equivalent to what we might expect.

Our resources are large if well used, but the low price at which our staple articles have ruled in the markets accessible to us, and an absence of captal, have prevented the extension in any considerable degree of our chief business. Under these circumstances it would appear a prudent policy to make use of the national credit so as to enable my Government to extend a helping hand his heartfelt appreciation and grateful thanks for the to the industrial enterprises of the country.

Impressed with these views, I propose to your Honorable Body to discuss the expediency of seeking among wealthy and great nations that capital of which we stand in need, and for which our resources should furnish abundant security.

I suggest to you the passage of an Act which will empower my Government to negotiate a Loan of such an amount as shall be deemed wise, and at the same time shall afford the Government the means to relieve the burdens now pressing so heavily upon the industries of the country, while it will also permit them to inn, Miss I. H Richards, Misses Mary and Alice McBryde, Masters Henry McGrew, John Dowsett, Alex McBryde and initiate works of public utility and improvement tending to develope our latent resources; following in this the example of those older and more experienced nations of the world who have never hesitated to contract loans of this nature where the public exigencies seemed to call for them.

Commending, Nobles and Representatives, to your careful consideration, this grave subject, I pray that you may be guided to a sound and wise decision, and that the measures decided upon by you may be the starting point for the growth of a new prosperity.

Accompanying this is a petition which I have just received from the principal merchants and business men of Honolulu, praying that certain steps should be immediately initiated with the object of obtaining a Reciprocity Treaty with the United States. As the United States is the most convenient market for our principal staples, it is very desirable that we should have better commercial facilities with that country.

Therefore I commenced this petition to the careful consideration of the Legislature, feeling assured that they will, having so considered it, take such action in the premises as will be conducive to the best interests of the Kingdom. KALAKAUA R. The following is the proposed Act to anthonia
